Home goods are displayed beneath that vault, joined by a rotating sale collection of modernist art from Robilant + Voena, one of Maier's favorite galleries. "When you open the glass door, it's a continuation of what's outside but one with a lot of serenity and calm," he observes.

"It's nice to come into a space that isn't the opposite of where you just were but is still a different world." bottegaveneta.com
