Memorial Sloan Kettering (MSK) hosted the 3rd Annual Opening Night of TEFAF NY Fall at the Park Avenue Armory Friday evening. The fair is a collector's dream: TEFAF is known for the exceptional quality of its dealers, who in turn exhibit their most important pieces. Proceeds from Friday night's benefit will be used for the Society's patient care, research, and education programs at MSK.

The Armory was packed with high-profile collectors from the minute the doors opened. Mary-Kate and Ashley Olsen, Debra and Leon Black, Hilary and Wilbur Ross, Nicole Miller and Lauren Santo Domingo paced the halls filled with exquisite art, silver, porcelain and jewelry. Guests could indulge in gravlax, freshly shucked oysters or pizza with a glass of Ruinart rose champagne, though serious buyers had no time for nibbling or chit-chat.

"We dedicated a whole room to Caravaggio, featuring masterworks of Caravagesque paintings, most notably A Drinking and Musical Party by Bartolomeo Manfredi, which was exhibited at the National Gallery in London," said Edmondo di Robilant.
